

Call for abstracts
International Conference
“Active Ageing in a Developing Society: stakeholders, responsibilities and challenges”

University of Gjakova “Fehmi Agani”, Gjakova, Kosovo
13th September, 2019

Aging is a physiological process which is associated with profound changes in body composition, making elderly people prone to many disease considered as common causes of functional impairment, disability and mortality. This is observed in Kosovo particularly, with life expectancy at birth being much lower to many other countries.

Academic community including teachers, researchers and students, health care experts together with health-care providing institutions are expected to be whom the conference is aimed for.

Conference aims to:

- promote the phenomenon of ageing, by emphasizing and empowering the role of different stakeholders in the process of dealing with older people in a developing countries;
- serve as a platform to disseminate findings and novelties from the previous collaborative research done at UGJFA;
- share perspectives and experiences from the invited speaker from the Active Ageing Platform at the University of Vienna;
- enhance the cooperation between academia and labor market (businesses);
- elaborate the social context of ageing and social rehabilitation as a multidisciplinary and multi-professional process;
- establish a working group that would set certain milestones in regards to the current situation, needs, and future directions;
- give the chance to experts to present their findings within the field, in order to disseminate and comprehend everything that is done up to date.

The main topics:

- healthy ageing
- age related conditions
- social wellbeing

The conference is organized by the Faculty of Medicine, University of Gjakova “Fehmi Agani” with funding’s by HERAS (Higher Education in Research and Applied Sciences) supported by Austrian Development Cooperation and Ministry of Education, Science and Technology of the Republic of Kosovo.

Important information:

Submission deadline: 30.06.2019, 23:59 CET
Acceptance notification: 01.08.2019
Conference event: 13.09.2019
Venue: UGJFA
Official language: English

Abstract submission guideline:

Please submit an abstract in English (as attached file, up to 250 words, three key words, 12pt Times New Roman, no tables or graphs; subject the heading “AADS_Name_Surname”) at ageing.conference@uni-gjk.org

Authors of the accepted abstracts will be informed by email regarding the form and specifics of the presentation.

Accepted abstracts will be included in the online abstract book.

Other organizational information:

<https://uni-gjk.org/faqe/72/konferenca>

Project funded by:

